Town and Country Life 2000 Years Ago

THE PLOUGHING OF THE OLIVE YARDS

WOODEN RAKE

ANCIENT EGYPTIAN HOE AND SICKLE

"I BLAME YOU GREATLY FOR THE LOSS OF TWO PIGS"

plans, his observance of religious festivals, and his taking "the little one" to the city for a few days of wondrous sight-seeing.

Several of the papyri show that it was the common practice for one farmer to loan seed to another less fortunate than he.

"I, Petheus, son of Patron, acknowledge the direct receipt from Anselmus, son of Theon, of two and a half artabae

Perhaps the town drunkard has existed ever since there was a town and intoxicants. At any rate, he was a notable character around Oxyrhynchus two thousand years ago, and his favorite method of getting money wherewith to secure the one thing his heart craved for most was to clip coins. Here is the letter of one town drunkard to a cronie in his cups:

"Endemon to Longinus, greeting: I entreat you, sir, to hasten to me and bring, if you please, the crystal (instrument) and we can clip the cash. If you will, you will be able to strain me some good Marceotis wine, when you come, with the proceeds."

In all probability the letter was written in some grog shop of the day.

The highway robber also plied his trade whenever he got a chance:

"To Megalonymus, strategus (inspector) of the divisions of Themistes and Polime in the Arsinoite nome (district), from Pasion, son of Heraclides, and Mesimus, son of Ammonius, both pig men (handlers) of the metropolis. Yesterday, as we were returning from the village of Theadelphia, about dawn we have attacked halfway between Polydencia and Theadelphia by robbers, who bound us and assaulted us with many blows, and wounded Pasion, and robbed us of a pig and carried off Pasion's tunic. Wherefore, we entreat you to register it, in order that when the culprits are discovered we may bring charges against them on these counts."

Is it your impression that the guarantee is a modern business device? Then the same old life, in many ways, that we live to-day.

See great changes going on every day of our life, but I see no change every day.

But you are, Mr. Dooley, and you have added in all truthfulness that, every day, respect, was the same in the city, town, village and country two thousand years ago as is lived day after day here in new America.

Of course, there was no horse-drawn carriage, no earth two thousand years ago. Travelers by foot and horse had yet been spared half out of their way by the tugging automobile. A little automobile did not sit in every way. The convenience of rural free delivery was not invented, so, also, the telephone, the threshing machine, the typewriter. But man's ability to invent has been from the beginning, with the same result to the end, here, just as the life we live is the same way to that of two thousand years ago as it will bear numerous resemblances to the life of the modern world in 2000 A. D.

The same things which have been known from ancient Babylon and Assyria, prove beyond doubt the similarity between the life of to-day and of yesterday, and other personal and domestic details recently recovered from Egyptian sand, in and about the ruins of Oxyrhynchus, a Greco-Roman town, one hundred and forty miles from Cairo, that had long been a dead city when Josephus wrote of it, and the child Jesus into it, and the equally indubitable fact of the similarity of town and country life then and now.

There are the private letters of Lucius Aemilius, for example, who, after he was discharged from his legion, went to live under Roman rule—look at the life of a soldier. But, like the life of to-day, he made his home in a town, where he ran his various businesses by written instructions and personal visits.

Blame you greatly for the loss of the pig, when you had ten animals at work," he wrote in Greek, which was the language of the colony, to a friend, evidently in direct charge of one of the farms. "Heraclides, the donkey driver, I find the blame from himself, that you had told him to drive the donkey."

Gemellus was a great believer in manure as a fertilizer. In one letter he advised his nephew to keep adding to the manure heap, and in another he gives these directions:

"Send the animals to carry manure at the vegetable ground (truck garden) at Pismenus, and the manure carts, for Pasion is crying out that we must not allow it to be dissolved by the water; and let them fetch his hay."

That one had to watch sharp to keep from being "struck" in a deal, still another of Gemellus' epistolary efforts make plain.

"Aunes, the donkey driver, has bought a rotten bundle of hay at 12 drachmae, a little bundle and rotten hay, the whole of it decayed—no better than dung."

Gemellus had a married daughter, Gemella. She had a son whom the grand father affectionately termed "the little one." He took great pleasure in planning a birthday party for the child and another for his daughter, ordering fowl, sucking pigs, olives, and other delicacies to be sent in from his farms. He had a very tongue and did not hesitate to use it when he felt inclined. "Don't talk nonsense about the threshing," and "do not write me about not neglecting the threshing, you have said more than enough," he wrote his son, in charge of a farm. Fortunately, however, for his twentieth century reputation, his softer side is revealed in his birthday party

THEY THINNED OUT THEIR ORCHARD

Let it be noted at once that the son of the town, having a few years ago, he had sold to Satabous, aged about thirty years, he on the little finger of the female mouse-colored donkey its first teeth, just as it is and that Mystharion has received Satabous the price agreed upon, fifty-six drachmae of directly from hand to hand house, and that he will sell with every guarantee.

Would not any man of fairly situated as Pasion's sand years ago, pen a letter in the fashion of this one, which sent to a resident of a new town?

"Pasion to Heraclides, greeting: ever you from necessity anything from me, I at you; and now please give three stateres which Seleus to give me, even if you your cloak; for I have set with his father, but he has to remain in arrears, and to get a receipt. Seleus, paying the money by saying have made an arrangement pay instead. Now, therefore, consider that you are lending to me, and don't keep Cleon go and meet him. On no do this."

Here is a townsman's friend that reads, except names and the word cent were written to-day:

"Isidorus invites you to on the occasion of his dining, at the house of Titus, at nine o'clock."

The form of making a postal by letter has changed, except as regards the dress and meeting.

"To Achilles, also called through his guardian Apollonius, son of Apollonius, from the Gool, I wish to lease from you from the thirtieth of the Mesore, of the oil presses at the village of Dionysia in the Harpocrion quarter a wheel and containing a cauldron, with all the upper rooms, and I wear in all one metretr strained olive oil, and like metres six choes of rapha dividing every year at the half of raphanous oil," etc., out fashion of expressing minutely.

Finally, the Oxyrhynch countryside, white and black, not acquainted with the Here is the letter of a G who certainly deserved more spankings than his playmates undoubtedly got time:

"Theon, to his father T. It was a fine thing of you me with you to the city, take me with you to Alex write you a letter or say good-by to you; and Alexandria I won't take ever greet you again. I happen if you won't take said to Archelaus: 'It is to be left behind.' It was to send me presents on day you sailed. Send me more you. If you don't, won't drink. There now."

Yes, Mr. Dooley, the many things that these of, though we of city, and try-side are vastly superior to the men and women of and country-side two thousand years ago, still we are the sons of our fathers and men more revealed, your only when you said:

"I see great changes in day of my life, but I see fifty years."

INTERESTING ITEMS ABOUT THE MINES

MAGNIFICENT DISPLAY OF FLUOR SPAR

Much Machinery is Being Installed and the Mining Prospects Were Never Brighter in this District

Capt. Haase has put on exhibition, at the New Marion hotel, two pieces of pure white spar weighing 1000 pounds each, from the Ashbridge.

It is reported that grinding machinery has been installed at the Lowery-Baron property in Caldwell county.

Grant Davidson is doing good work on the Lyne Place and has reached a depth of 48 feet with one of the finest constructed shafts in the district.

Felt's advises the greatest mine in the district is on Bank street. Dr. Nunn and his patrons must have no fear of a cave in.

The many mines, including from the Hodge, Riley and Reid mines, begin to bring on business at Crayneville.

Hoisting George Roberts continues to ship spar in large quantities from both sides of the Ohio.

Eskow Bros. render great assistance to the miners.

A contract will be let for a 320 shaft on the James Farmer place this week.

The management at the Hopewell Mine will begin sinking a new shaft about Sept. 1st.

A great deal of development work and production is still going on in district. Some of the properties which have ceased to be regarded as dividend payers have, as it were, blossomed out like a rose and now give promise of being the best yet. Among these is the Schoolfield-Spears Mining Co., near Carversville, and the old Jim property near Crittenden Springs where a four foot vein of carbonate has been uncovered and the prospect is equal to the original old Jim lead which enriched its owners. Another property which produces an excellent grade of fluor spar in large quantities, which is being worked after a short rest, is the Hodge Mine, where a very large tonnage is now being taken out.

Judge Blackburn's New Residence

Judge Walter Blackburn's residence in the Weldon-Blackburn addition is nearing completion, so far as the exterior is concerned. The roof is now being put on. It is a cozy eight room brick, just off Main street, only three squares from the court house, a most desirable location, and it will add much to that street of pretty homes. A. C. Melton is doing the brick work and J. S. Braswell the wood work.

A Good Revival.

Rev. J. F. Price has just closed a meeting at Oakland, McCracken Co., twelve miles from Paducah. It is a fine community but the church had been languishing and rather retrograding for seven years. The church was greatly revived and strengthened many testified to the help the meeting had been to them, the holy spirit was present in great measure several professions of faith among two or three men of families.

Marriage License

Wey Wyatt to Miss Pearl Motson-backer.
Rli Hardin to Miss Mary Belle Burton.
S. J. Winders to Miss Susie Ford.

Several parties interested in mines and mining have visited this district this past week.

It is reported that the Columbia Mine will be put in operation again soon.

The Wheatcroft is now producing some fine disseminated spar and lead.

The Kentucky Fluor Spar Co. is again hauling to Crayneville, large quantities of both lump and gravel spar from the Hodge Mine.

The Marion Zinc Co. is reapplying and cementing its large reservoir at the Riley Mine and is also running a cross cut on the 173 foot level, and is raising high grade lead and spar from the 70 foot level.

The new machinery being installed at the Reid Hill Mine, near Lola, will be ready for operation this week.

The machinery recently installed at the Ellipse Mine is reported as working fine.

The old Memphis continues the standard for the district.

At the Old Jim Mine a fine vein of carbonate four feet wide has been uncovered.

The grinding mill which was erected at the Nancy Hanks mines is proving a great success, and one of the results of it is that a mill is to be constructed immediately at the great Riley Mine which is near at hand.

The month of August will prove one of the greatest months in the history of the Memphis Mines. Between six and eight hundred tons of fluor spar of fine quality has been taken from this mine during the month which closes to-morrow.

OLD PINEY FORK

Campmeeting to Begin Sept. 10th---An Interesting Letter from Rev.

J. T. Barbee.

EDITOR PRESS:—I see in the Cumberland Banner of Aug. 24th, that the annual campmeeting at old Piney Fork is to begin on Monday night, Sept. 10, and that the Rev. J. L. Hugins, of Union City, Tenn., is to do the preaching. I want to say out loud, if it will not offend good taste and good breeding, amen! Let everybody who can possibly do so, be there at the first service. Bro. Hugins is a great man and a good preacher. He is also the present moderator of the Cumberland Presbyterian General Assembly. Come and see for yourself that the old C. P. church is not dead, as some deserters from the fold have reported, but very much alive. Let everyone who can move in on Monday morning to remain to the close. I had thought old Piney, so far as campmeetings were concerned, was dead, but thanks to the good Lord, I believe this a return to her former glory. I trust the management will have instruments sufficient, and at least fifty good singers in attendance. Let everybody pray that the preacher may come filled with the Holy Ghost, and that we shall witness another such time as when the notch was cut in the past. Come to the campmeeting, old Piney will throw wide her doors, and with true Kentucky hospitality and old time Cumberland liberality you will receive a hearty welcome.

I shall ask Bro. Hugins to preach on Wednesday at 11 o'clock, the sermon he preached in the Grand Army Hall at Desatur, Ill. on Sunday at 11 o'clock.

Come to old Piney and let us have one more fresh drink from the fountain. What is a few days and a little cost compared to what you will get by being at Piney Fork in the year 1906.

Let Wednesday, the 12th, be called folks' day, and one never to be forgotten. Let everybody gather on the ground on Friday and Saturday before and prepare the grounds.

Brothers, excuse me for my blurt in giving suggestions. I am so full of this meeting already that I can scarcely refrain from crying out at the top of my voice. Glory to God in the highest. Let everybody come. I hope to meet all my old friends whom I used to meet at Piney Fork. And above all, let us pray for multitudes to be saved on that occasion. J. T. BARBEE, Owensboro, Ky.

MRS. GEO. F. ROBERTS

Succumbs to Consumption After Many Months of Suffering.

On Monday, August 27th, Mrs. Lucy J. Roberts died at her home eight miles east of Marion in the Iron Hill vicinity. She had been a sufferer from consumption of the lungs for many weary months, but had patiently borne her afflictions until death relieved her. Mrs. Roberts was Mrs. Lucy Jane Baker before her marriage to Geo. F. Roberts, which took place June 5, 1881. She professed religion in the fall of 1873, and joined the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Sugar Grove, December 7th of that year. She was 48 years, 4 months and 13 days old, having been born April 14, 1858, and died August 27, 1906. She leaves, besides her husband, two daughters, Misses Edna and Anna Roberts, two brothers, Jno. Baker, of Anneton, Mo., who was with her during her last illness. Her aged mother, Mrs. Martha Ann Baker also survives her and was with her at the time of her death.

The funeral took place at Sugar Grove church Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock and the interment afterwards in the cemetery at that place. Services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. T. Oakley.

AN OLD PIONEER PASSES AWAY

UNCLE WALT COOK DIED LAST SATURDAY MORNING AT 8.40

Was Taken Suddenly Ill and Died Five Hours After the Attack

Last Saturday morning at 4 o'clock, John Walter Cook, one of the best known and oldest men in the county, was taken suddenly and seriously ill and died at 8.40 a. m., living less than 5 hours after the fatal attack.

He was visiting at his old farm at the home of Albert L. Lucas, his son-in-law, near Mattoon.

Mr. Cook was born May 15th, 1822, at Pittsburg, Pa., and came to this county over fifty years ago and settled near Bells Mines. He was a coal operator and was interested with Wheatcroft, Bell and other operators of anti-bellum days.

He was married four times. His first wife being Miss Wheatcroft, the second a Miss Chimon, his third a widow, Mrs. Pickering, his fourth, also a widow, Mrs. Lafield, all of whom are dead.

He was the father of nine children, two by his first wife, five by his second and two by his third.

Six of his children are still living, they being John Walter, Jr., of Texas, George, of Arkansas, Fred, of this county, Mrs. Cooper, of Caseyville, Mrs. Jas. Gilbert, of Marion, Mrs. A. L. Lucas, of Mattoon.

He had been a professor of religion for nearly fifty years, having joined the Methodist church in Pittsburg in 1848, from where he moved his membership to Bells Mines and from Bells Mines to Zion Hill where he has been a member for forty years.

The funeral took place at Zion Hill church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and the burial was in the cemetery at the same place. Services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. R. C. Love.

WALLINGFORD'S STABLE

For the Third Time Burned to the Ground Friday Night

Friday morning at 2 o'clock the blowing of whistles, ringing of bells and the cries of fire, aroused many of our citizens who hurried to the aid of the afflicted person without knowing or caring who it was. 'Twas not long until those good samaritans ascertained that it was Dudley Wallingford's stable in the rear of his residence on Salem street, that was a prey to the flames, and so far was the fire advanced that there was no hope of saving the building, and all hands turned their attention to saving the stock and vehicles, all which were saved.

Mr. Wallingford has had two previous fires and in each his loss has been heavy, and every one regrets this new misfortune. Previous experience, however, has taught him to not run his business without insurance, and we are informed he had some insurance on his property but we did not learn how much.

Fortunately his new brick stable on Belleville street is nearing completion and he can occupy a part of it, and by pushing the work will have it ready for occupancy. It is one of the largest and best equipped stables in this section and has been equipped throughout with a dozen electric lights.

The only item burned besides the stable were the glass shutters to his windows and several sets of harness. Mr. Wallingford has been the old reliable liveryman here for many years and his friends will now stick to him only the closer.

BAPTISTS MEET AT PINEY CREEK

INTERESTING SESSION OF THE OHIO RIVER ASSOCIATION.

Greatest Year, Financially and Otherwise, in History of Organization.

This body held its twenty-fourth annual session last week with Piney Creek Baptist church. Thirty-four churches were represented by messengers and letters. The introductory sermon was preached by Elder H. B. Taylor, of Murray, by request of the Association. His subject, "Salvation by Grace," was presented clearly and forcibly, and was greatly enjoyed by the large congregation present.

The reports from the churches show a marked advance in contributions to all the benevolences of the churches. Peace and prosperity seem to abound throughout the churches.

We were honored and helped by a number of visitors, among whom we recall Elders H. B. Taylor, John Grady and D. M. Green, of Blood River Association, Brother Green is one of the pioneer Baptist preachers of this country, being now about eighty-four years young, vigorous and active. For a number of years he has led the opening and closing prayers of the Association. Elder H. C. McGill, of Ohio Valley Association, representing the Western Recorder, and Miss Abercrombie, of the Baptist Orphans' Home, of Louisville, Ky., were also esteemed visitors.

Elder E. B. Blackburn, one of the veteran ministers of the Association, was chosen moderator, and gracefully filled the chair and presided over the deliberations. R. A. LaRue was re-elected clerk. The association was royally entertained by Piney Creek Church and community.

Ring resolutions were passed, pledging the body to the support of Anti-Saloon League and calling for such legislation as will suppress Sabbath excursions and base ball playing throughout the State.

LOW RATES FOR THE STATE FAIR

Railroads Fix One Fare For the Round Trip.

MANY VARIED ATTRACTIONS

Provided For State Fair Week, Sept. 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22.

TROTTERS AND RUNNERS WILL RACE EACH DAY

Surpassing Exhibition of Horses, Cattle, Sheep and Swine—Woman's Department a Joy to Housewives. Twenty-five Thousand Dollars in Premiums and Purse.

Railroad rates for the State Fair have been fixed at one fare plus 25 cents for the round trip from all points in Kentucky and in Southern Indiana. With nine railroads running into the city of Louisville, where the Fair will be held during the week of September 17-22, one hundred passenger trains daily will carry thousands to the metropolis of Kentucky. In addition many special trains will be run in order to accommodate those who wish to visit the Fair for a single day only. There is no part of the state of Kentucky from which Louisville can not be reached in a reasonable time. From the western part of the state the Henderson and Illinois Central railroads will furnish ample accommodations, and in the southern part the L. & N. will bring thousands, while from the central and eastern sections the C. & O., Southern and L. & N. will bring the crowds.

A CLYDESDALE

Once in Louisville, ample amusement will be provided to keep every visitor well entertained and amused during his stay, whether it be for a day or during the entire week. Of course the Fair itself will be the center of interest and there so many free attractions have been arranged for that the whole time can be spent enjoyably and profitably without seeking other recreation. Each of the men having the different departments in hand is thoroughly qualified by long years of training and experience to arrange the exhibits in his charge in the most attractive and approved manner.

Many Things to Please.

The Fair proper, that is the exhibits of horses, cattle and other live stock, the products of farm and field, the garden and flower beds, mechanical department and that devoted to woman's handiwork will be both interesting and of great educational value. This is not even half of the pleasure that has been provided for those who attend the State Fair. Those who love a contest, and how many Kentuckians are there who do not, between the clean-limbed and high-spirited trotting horses and thorough-breeds, will find four races on the program each day. There will be either a trotting or pacing race, best three heats in five, and three running races. For over a month the track has been in course of preparation for the trotting races. Thousands of gallons of water have been poured on it daily, and after each wetting it has been rolled and packed so that the trotters will find thin and resilient surface under their shoes rather than the deep and sandy soil, which is better suited to thoroughbreds. The hard surface will not be of disadvantage to the owners, inasmuch as the races immediately before the Fair will be at Douglas Park, a track that was built for trotting purposes, and which is considerably harder than the average running track. Among the races on the program is one for trotters of the 2:10 class and a free-for-all for pacers, which will be decided on Friday. In the thoroughbred division there will be a gentleman's cup race and two steeplechases, while every day there will be at least one race of a mile or over. As there will be no other racing in the west during the Fair, the best horses in training and the highest class jockeys in the west will take part in the racing at the State Fair. Purse for the trotting races will be $500 each, a considerably larger amount than is ordinarily offered at fairs.

RED POLLED BULL.

Varied Attractions.

Visitors in the city during the week can enjoy the many varied attractions at night. They can go to the Fair and enjoy a concert by one of the most famous musical organizations in the United States. They can go over the grounds and take in the carnival shows or can sit in the Palm Garden and enjoy the music while they chat over pleasures of the day with their friends and renew their acquaintance with Kentuckians from other parts of the state. The social feature of the Fair will undoubtedly prove one of its most attractive points, and as the years go on the State Fair will become more and more a meeting ground for Kentuckians from all sections of the commonwealth, where they can see what the other parts of the state are doing and exchange ideas of mutual benefit. The State Fair is the place to meet your friends and enjoy a few days' outing. It comes at a season of the year when the farmer and stock raiser can best afford to leave their homes for a few days, and thousands will take advantage of the low rates in order to be there.

When the exhibits of horseflesh, cattle and swine in the morning and the races in the afternoon have been sufficient for the day at the Fair, the visitors can find other forms of recreation and amusement in the five theaters in Louisville or at any one of the several parks about the city. At McClellan's theater they can find high class drama, at the Masonic, find a musical comedy, at the Avenue, a thrilling melodrama, or at the Hopkirk, refined vaudeville.

Classes Well Filled.

Practically every class for which prize money has been offered has been well filled, and the leading stock raisers of the state will be there to show their horses, their cattle, their sheep and their hogs. The exhibits of horseflesh will undoubtedly surpass anything ever before seen at the State Fair in Kentucky, and will excel even those of the well-established State

A FOUR-YEAR-OLD.

Fairs of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. The fact that only one week intervenes between the Fair and the Louisville Horse Show has added many entries in the horse division. The classes for the high steppers, roadsters and both three and five-gaited saddle horses have many entries that will be shown at the Louisville Horse Show. The light harness and plantation saddle classes, which are exhibited only at fairs in Kentucky, have likewise been well filled.

In many of the saddle rings as many as twenty entries have been received. This is especially true of the five-gaited saddlers, and many other entries are expected before ribbons are tied. In the beef cattle division entries will come from Missouri, Ohio and Indiana to compete with Kentucky stock raisers, and it is predicted that the Shorthorn and other beef cattle classes will surprise even those who have been regular attendants at fairs. The Overton Hill Farm, near Nashville, Tenn., will send its entire herd of Jerseys, considered the greatest that has ever been furnished in this country. It will include Brooklyn Hill Fox, the champion Jersey bull of England.

The judges selected for all the classes have been chosen with the greatest care. They are men not only qualified to pass upon merits of the entries, but also men who are absolutely unbiased and whose judgment would be readily accepted by both winners and losers alike.

Geologists in Trigg County.

A preliminary examination of Christian county mineral land is being made this week. The surveying corps have been for a week and are now working in Trigg county, but the full force expect to get into this county in about ten days or weeks. The survey is being made under the supervision of Assistant State Geologist F. J. Fols. He is using one of the Kentuckian's correct maps of the county. We have a few left which we are giving away to subscribers. Take the paper a year and you get the map free.—Kentuckian.

Another Good Man Gone Wrong.

He neglected to take Foley's Kidney cure at the first signs of kidney trouble, hoping it would wear away, and he was soon a victim of Bright's Disease. There is danger in delay, but if Foley's Kidney cure is taken, at once the symptoms will disappear. The kidneys are strengthened and you are soon sound and well. A. R. Bass of Morgantown, Ind., had to get up ten or twelve times in the night and had a severe backache, and pains in the kidneys, and was cured by Foley's Kidney Cure. At Woods & Orme's.

Don't You?

Don't you like this stretchy weather When it's hot, When you seem to run together In a clot Of hot, reeking perspiration? Don't you feel a wild elation, And a wish for dissipation? Do you not?

Don't the mercury keep singing Songs to you, Leaping, laughing, tilting, swinging Through and through and through All of your enraptured being, Till you feel like rising, fleeing Onto where you will be seeing Peek-a-bow?

Don't you long for beds of tulips In the sun, And for quarts on quarts of juleps. And the fun

That is where the flags are bending And the wild perfumes are blending? And for, where a stream is wending, Fishes run. —Houston Post.

Why Fret and Worry

When your child has a severe cold? You need not fear pneumonia or other pulmonary diseases. Keep supplied with Ballard's Horehound Syrup, a positive cure for colds, coughs, whooping cough and bronchitis. Mrs. Hall of Sioux Falls, S. D., writes: "I have used your wonderful Ballard's Horehound Syrup on my children for five years. Its results have been wonderful." For sale by Woods & Orme.

Plays Fire-Eater; Near Death.

St. Louis, Aug. 21.—In trying to imitate the "fire-eating trick" of a circus man Johnnie Cottle, eight-year-old son of Mrs. Mary Cottle, of 1215 Armstrong avenue, filled his mouth with coal oil and set it fire with a match. In a moment he was covered in flames. Mrs. Sarah Peterson, who lives on the ground floor at the same number, wrapped her skirt about him and smothered the blaze, after which the boy was sent to the city hospital, where his condition was pronounced serious. The boy is not expected to recover.

Children in Pain

Never cry as do children who are suffering from hunger. Such is the cause of a baby's who cry, and are treated for sickness, when they really are suffering from hunger. This is caused from their food not being assimilated but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once; give it a trial. At Woods & Orme's.

Baby Deserted by Mother.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—Deserted by its mother, a 2-year-old infant was found in a dirty dark room at 225 Chestnut street. It had cried all night from hunger. Neighbors who heard its wails notified the police. The baby was taken to St. Vincent's asylum. The mother's name is Berth. She has not been found.

Beautiful Legend.

There is an old legend that runs in this wise: At the creation's dawn an angel came down to earth and before retuning looked around for something to carry back to heaven. There were three things that attracted the attention of the white-winged messenger a bouquet of sweet flowers that had been gathered from one of the earth's fair and blooming gardens, the smile of a baby that had been playing with a sunbeam, and mother's love. These three the angel carried away, but when they reached the pearly gates of paradise the flowers had withered—the baby's smile had vanished. Only a mother's love remained the same, and being found as pure and eternal as the waters that flowed by God's throne, all the angels that ranged about exclaimed in unison: "There is nothing on earth pure enough for heaven and a mother's love." This was a tribute containing a sublime thought. And through all the ages it has been human experience that the angels referred to in that far-away legend, were not over-extravagant in the message that they passed out through the opened windows of the "mazy mansions" along the banks of the "River of God." —Henderson Gleaner.

Wash Cruce.

An interesting letter was received from an old Crittenden county citizen last week by his nephew and name sake G. W. Stone. The party who wrote the letter was G. W. Cruce, of Clinton, Mo., well known to many of our older citizens as Wash Cruce who moved west nearly a half of a century ago, since which he has spent much time in Mo., Kan., and Texas, finally settling down at Clinton, Mo., where he now resides with his wife and two sons. How careless people get about writing and keeping up with their friends and those they love is shown by Mr. Cruce's letter. In it he inquires about his sister Lucy's health, she having been dead four years and was Caleb Stone's wife and mother of councilman G. W. Stone who received the letter.

He also asked about sister Jane Wilson, not knowing she had passed over the dark river twenty-two years ago, and sister Mary Cole, who for over forty years has been Mrs. Gettings, and now lives at Kuttawa.

And about brother Presley, who unknown to him had died thirty-five years ago, and about brother E. Well, who has also been dead twenty-five years or more. Two brothers, James and Marion, live in Livingston Co., between the rivers now and with the one sister Mrs. Gettings, of Kuttawa, comprise all the family of that generation now living.

Electric Power.

The hydraulic power now used in Switzerland for running electric plants is estimated at more than 225,000 horse power, of which 40 per cent is employed for electric lighting, 13 per cent, for traction, 23 per cent, for electrolytic work, and 24 per cent for motors. Even with this work done by water, the imports of foreign coal amount to nearly $2,000,000 annually. Continued increase in electric plants is thus assured, and a projected one in the Bernese Oberland promises 40,000 horse power, while others are expected to follow to supply the 150,000 horse-power needed by the railroads. A hydro-electric plant on the Rhine near Numpf is to have a 230-foot head of water, with a canal fifteen miles long to lead the water from the dam to the turbine station.

Frightfully Burned.

Charles W. Moore, a machinist of Ford City, Pa., had his hand frightfully burned in an electrical furnace. He applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve with the usual result, "a quick and perfect cure." Greatest healer on earth for burns, wounds, sores, eczema and piles. 25c. at the drugstore of Woods & Orme.

FOR SALE:—7 head young males in good order. Some broken to work, some not broke wise. S. M. Jenkins.

The Deceptive Hen's Fate

A hen wanted to have some fun at her master's expense, so she procured an ostrich's egg and placed it in her nest.

"Oh, my," cried her master when he saw it, "what a remarkable hen I have! See, she has laid this enormous egg."

And he thought it was so wonderful that he immediately put the hen in a cage and took her to the circus, so that everybody could see the hen that laid eggs as big as she did. He made a nice nest for her in a box, and she was given a good position on the side-show platform between the fat lady and the tattooed man.

Everybody went to see the wonderful hen, and her master was very much pleased. But the next day the hen laid an ordinary egg, and day after day it was the same size. At the end of the week the circus man went to the hen's master and said:

"Why have you deceived me? This hen only lays ordinary eggs."

And the master did not know what to say. He gathered up his cage with the hen in it and went back home.

When he got there he picked up an ax and chopped the hen's head off.

And that reminds me that we should always be careful not to make things appear in a wrong light.—Detroit Journal.

RARE JUSTICE

Bunny Rabbit went one day last week to rob Mr. Coon's corncrib, and Mr. Coon caught him in the very act. "I'll march you off to jail, sir, and that's what I'll do with you!"

"Oh, don't march me off to jail! Anything but that! I know I ought to be killed. Throw me in the river, drown me, but don't march me off to jail!" pleaded Bunny Rabbit.

"All right," said old man Coon. "But if I throw you in the river you'll swim out. I know you. That's what you'll do."

"I was just coming to that," said Bunny Rabbit. "I was just going to ask you to tie my hands behind my back, so I couldn't swim a stroke. I'm afraid when I get in that cold water I might try to swim, and so I want you to tie me."

Old man Coon thought he never had seen such a repentant rabbit in all his days. There was something suspicious about it, but he tied Master Bunny Rabbit's paws hard and fast. Then Bunny Rabbit stood on the bank of the river and wept, and the tears hopped down his furry little cheeks, and his paws were tied so he couldn't wipe them away. Oh, he was a piteous spectacle!

"Go up to the top of that high hill," said he, "and run down just as fast as you can and give me a good shove away out into the middle of the water, so I will drown, quick!"

Mr. Coon went up and ran, but Bunny Rabbit's hind feet were not tied, and when Mr. Coon got to him, Bunny stepped to one side. Splash went old man Coon into the water.

"Oh, save me! Save me, Brother Bunny Rabbit!" he cried, for Mr. Coon, who could not swim, was helpless with fear.—Atlanta Constitution.

We are anxious to have our readers of this paper as a medium for the dissemination of the truth and for the promotion of the interests of the community.

Subscription is one thing, but the paper is another. It is a medium for the dissemination of
the truth and for the promotion
of the interests of the community.

Our paper is one thing, but the paper is another. It is a medium for the dissemination of
the truth and for the promotion
of the interests of the community.

Difficulties are thrown in our path by various circumstances, and should they arise we will meet them.

Keep sobering. Don't mind. Remember that half an eye can see more things than the whole of an ignorant one.

Every day is a little life, every life only a short day. Teach us, O Father, that life's duties are bound up in each day, and that life, long or short, is made up of days.

There are many striking examples of the value of good roads. Where-ever roads have been permanently improved it is found that there has been a very great increase in the value of the adjacent property, as a matter of fact the increase in the value of lands in the blue grass section has been sufficient to cover the entire cost of the turn-pikes.

Alfred Mosely, a wealthy Englishman, says American boys are brighter than English boys. He does not appear to know why. One of the chief reasons why young America is bright is because it tips the cap to no quire, squreling or other condemned overman. And, in addition to this he may find by listening to the conversation of those from a week and a half, that every one has a new way of looking at things, and one is inclined to say in a particular case, if he is the one, and a way of looking at things.

Why is it that so many people are looking at things in this way?
If you go to any place, and see people by the hundred who are looking at things in this way, you will find that they are looking at things in this way because they are looking at things in this way. They are looking at things in this way because they are looking at things in this way. They are looking at things in this way because they are looking at things in this way.

The people of our little city, who are looking at things in this way, are looking at things in this way because they are looking at things in this way.
They are looking at things in this way
because they are looking at things in this way. They are looking at things
in this way because they are looking at things in this way. They are looking at things in this way because they are looking at things in this way.

which any housewife will be glad to own and use after seeing it tried. It is simple, easily kept clean and is really a necessity.
